The JT EssEntials

Welcome to JT Muse!

LGS JT warmly welcomes all of our delegates that have dedicated their weekends to compete in one of the most anticipated High School arts olympiad! This is the 1st Edition of JT Muse, all of you will be part of vital JT History and we hope you enjoy your time at JT. This handbook aims to prevent any mishaps and/or confusions as well as provide essential information for delegates that are arriving on campus for the first time. It'll cover the map and layout of the school, along with important details and contacts for delegates to have on the tips of their fingers at all times.

Important Contacts & Info:

Okay, so there are many individuals that are overseeing that JT Muse go smoothly and according to plan. These important folk are listed below, and their contacts are also mentioned:

Event Heads:

Saad Ahmed - +92 310 8857777

Qasim Hasnain Kazmi - +92 301 9059055

Kamal Mustafa - +92 322 8411707

Equity Directors:

Shirjeel Ahmad - +92 336 0455056

Yasar Adnan - +92 306 1967002

Equity remains a serious matter at LGS JT. The management will absolutely throw the book at a person if they are caught breaking any rules. These rules are regarding the safety of all including delegates, management as well as members of the Staff. Those found committing serious violations may be subject to disqualification, or in extreme cases, banned from future events at JT. Moreover, these rules are also applied to the management as well. If you, the delegate, face any sort of discomfort by verbal/physical means, please DO contact either an Event Head or an Equity Director.

Alrighty! Since that's outta the way now, let's look at:

The School Layout:

LGS JT is not a small campus. It has many floors and rooms, both divided across the O & A-Level sections. We know it's already daunting for delegates to see a new school, so we're listing the layouts of the school out (with pictures too!).

O-Level Layout:

There are going to be 2 floors located in the O-Level section. These 2 floors (listed from the bottom upwards) are:

- The Basement (Rooms 10A, 10H, 11A to 11H are located here!)
- The Ground Floor (Rooms 10B to 10G are located here!)

There are more floors in the O-Level section, however, they won't be in use. These two floors are all that really matter to delegates.

A-Level Layout:

The A-Level section will have 3 important floors. Once again, from bottom upwards:

- The Basement (The Cafeteria is here!)
- The Ground Floor (Rooms 1 and 2 are here!)
- The First Floor (Rooms 3 to 9 are here!)

Likewise, there will be more floors on the A-level side as well, but they most probably won't be in use either. Please note that all other areas not listed above or displayed in pictures are prohibited to delegates. Those found in these prohibited areas will be subject to guidelines in the Event Code of Conduct and Equity.

The Gallery

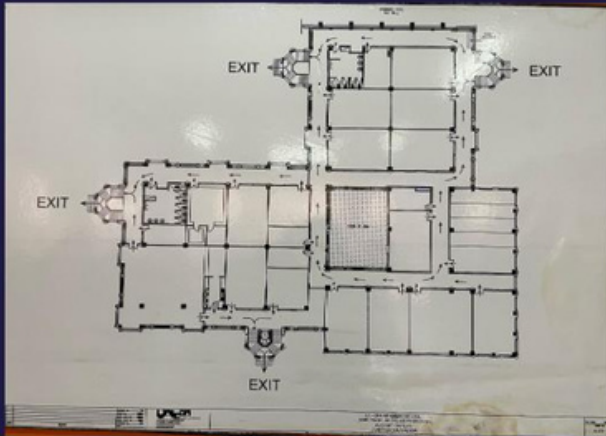

This is what delegates will see when they enter the A-Level Gate.

The left-most structure is the auditorium. The central parts are the O-Level classes, and the right-most building (which is partly off-screen) is the A-Level section.

Room floors that are located on said floor will be written on signs directly in front of staircases on both the A-Level and O-Level sides.

An emergency exit floor-plan. Not that there would be an emergency, but it always helps to have contingency plans in case things go wrong!!

A picture of the corridor in the O-Level basement. Remember, classes 11A-11H are present in the basement, along with 10G and 10H.

Also, we may or may not have taken more pictures than we should've but regardless we're going to add 'em here because why not!!

This absolutely massive chessboard made up of incredibly heavy pieces can be found in the basement courtyard.

Also, this is another example of the room numbers/classes being displayed on signs adjacent to the stairways.

This is the beautiful O-Level gate area. With its greenery and lushness, it is an amazing place to sit down and relax.

Here's a close-up of the O-Level Cafeteria. And yes, that is Musa standing in the middle with his beige bag (LOL he doesn't know 😏).

A-Level Gate: This is the gate that delegates will use to enter/exit on all 3 days. This gate directly opens into the multiple courts including Badminton, Football, Basketball, Volleyball and Cricket courts as well as the highly favored arm wrestling table can be found at times where it is likely you'll see some of our best competing with members of your institution.

After entering from the A-Level gate, you'll be able to see the auditorium towards your left side. A red carpet will probably be your guide to the hall. Follow the red carpet and enter the building to get to the registration desk where members from our registration department will be giving out delegate cards to the delegates.

After collecting your delegate cards, please ascend the stairways to arrive at the auditorium where the opening ceremony will take place. Here you can socialize with other attendees. Female washrooms are also located on this floor, near the office of the School Psychologist, along with other locations throughout the school.

“KHaNa KaB LaG RaHa Hai?”

Worry not, our delegates, the Management at JT Muse has got your back, and we won't let you compete on an empty stomach which is why we've got multiple options for you and your cravings:

The Sacred Cafeterias

Along with the many food stalls we will have up and running in the sports grounds on the event days, LGS JT also has its two major cafeterias. One cafeteria is located near the entrance of the auditorium, overlooking the football ground. This cafeteria is lovingly called Shah Jee's due to the beloved man running it, Shah Jee. His shawarmas and wraps are stellar and delicious, the cafeteria carries all essential food items such as water, juices, chocolate milks (best drink ever, other editor believes apple juice best drink ever). The Cafeteria is well-known for its crispy, filling, hygienic, and most importantly affordable French Fries as well.

The other cafeteria is located in the A-level building's basement (pictured on the above page). Once again, the A-level cafeteria carries essential items. However, the real specialty lies in their pizzas and fries. Their mouth-savoring foods lead to long lines during lunch hours at LGS JT. This cafeteria has a seating arrangement, where delegates can buy food and take a seat to enjoy it. Also, biryani plates have just recently been introduced, so do definitely try them out before they run out.

The Food Stalls

LGS JT has secured sponsorships from several companies, and henceforth we are proud to inform you that we have multiple stalls set up outside on the volleyball court and near the cricket nets. Delegates will be able to purchase other items to consume, such as sandwiches and shakes, offered by the event's wonderful sponsors. We at JT recognize the ongoing genocide in Gaza, and we will offer products from companies that do not support/are not affiliated with Israel in order to boycott the brands that do support Israel.

Aaaaaand yeah, that's pretty much it.

Obviously, if there are any questions, go ahead and text an event head or ask a management member on campus! The management team should be wearing hoodies that have their positions and/or names on the back.

If you are new to the competitions/events side of things, don't worry, we were all there at one point. Don't feel unconfident and just know that the JT management is here to help!

Yours Truly,
JT Muse '24 Management
